- Lead PR activities to strengthen Avante's profile within the social care sector, building trusted relationships with media, partners, and sector influencers.
- Demonstrate strong cultural and emotional intelligence, building trust and engagement across diverse teams, managers, partners, and communities. Use this awareness to influence stakeholders, shape brand perception, and deliver measurable results.
- Support reputation management through transparent and timely communications, aligned with Avante's values.
- Lead the digital evolution of marketing and sales, embedding data-driven insight, AI tools, and emerging technologies to enhance customer experience and organisational agility.
- Ensure AI and automation are used ethically and effectively to forecast demand, personalise outreach, and optimise engagement across all channels.
- Lead, mentor, and develop high-performing teams across marketing, sales, and business development, promoting a culture of collaboration, creativity, and care.
- Build marketing and sales team's digital capability through training and knowledge-sharing.
- Represent Avante at industry events, conferences, and community forums as a brand ambassador, promoting Avante's commitment to high-quality, person-centred care and strengthening relationships with key partners and commissioners.

Job Description

- Embed equality, diversity, and inclusion principles across all marketing and sales activities, and ensure all data and AI-driven initiatives adhere to GDPR and social care regulations.
- Educate internal stakeholders on the meaning and impact of marketing terminology, activities, and KPIs to promote awareness, understanding, and alignment across Avante.
- Provide targeted training for managers on key sales and marketing principles, enabling them to support enquiry generation, conversion, and brand consistency within their teams.
